

EHINOMEN CHRIS-ESEZOBOR

enc51@scarletmail.rutgers.edu · (848) 468-6340 · Piscataway, NJ

EDUCATION

Rutgers University, The State University of New Jersey – Bachelors in Information Technology and Informatics, Minor in Critical Intelligence Studies

DEC 2022, New Brunswick, NJ

- Relevant Coursework: Object Oriented Programming, Web Design, Data Structures & Algorithms
- General Member of the Institute of the Minority Engineering Educational Task, National Society of Black Engineers & Google Developer Student Club

EXPERIENCE

Vaptales Inc., New York City, NY – Software Developer Intern

SEP 2021 – PRESENT

- Collaborated and led a team in an Agile SCRUM environment to produce desired backend microservices.
- Designed, developed and maintained RESTful API platform integrated with cloud native development (AWS).

Digital Forte, Lagos, Nigeria – Software Developer Intern

JUN 2021 – AUG 2021

- Created, tested, and deployed applications on custom hardware displaying a solid understanding of embedded application development.
- Employed best coding practices and object-oriented programming techniques to work on different software development projects.

PERSONAL PROJECTS

React Weather App

- Built a ReactJS web app that pulls real-time weather information with axios from weather api, based on the user's search.

Sorting Visualizer Project

- Built a ReactJS web app that visualizes classic sorting algorithms like selection sort, merge sort, heap sort and bubble sort.

SKILLS

Languages – Javascript/Typescript, HTML, CSS, Python.

Frameworks/Libraries – ReactJs, Node.js, Express, MongoDB, SQL, AWS, Pandas, Redux.